About the school

Meeting internationally recognised standards of excellence, the British International School of Stockholm is the only accredited member of COBIS (the Council of British International Schools) in Sweden and received an excellent BSO inspection report. The school is situated across two campuses in Djursholm, a beautiful suburb of Stockholm. It caters for the Nursery to Year 13 age range and enjoys an excellent reputation for both its academic progress and achievement, and its pastoral care.

BISS is a vibrant and highly successful school of over 600 children from 45 different nationalities.

In Primary, the school uses objectives from the IPC as a starting point and this is developed further for specialist subjects such as PE. In Secondary, BISS uses objectives from Cambridge Secondary and English National Curriculum, followed by Cambridge IGCSE courses for Years 10 and 11 and the IB Diploma for Years 12 and 13.

Closing date

Interviews will be scheduled continuously.
